PREFACE.

1190774

SOME years ago I discovered that there was in Savage's Dictionary a great deal more information about many families than could be found under the name, and that an index such as is now uniformly found in genealogical works would be of great use. In the preparation for the press of my family genealogy, I found that the maiden name of the wife of the only son of my first American ancestor still eluded my best endeavors; so, as I had not been able to induce any one else to do the work, I compiled the following index. It has been done very hurriedly, but, I hope, will be found reasonably free from errors.

The amount of additional information it lays open is very much more than even I expected; but my object is yet unattained. I still want the maiden name of

> Sarah, who married John Dexter, who died 1677; afterwards married William Boardman,[1] who died 1696; probably finally married Daniel Hichens.[2]

Any one who will help me to some enlightenment in the premises, will greatly oblige,

O. P. DEXTER,

May, 1884. P. O. Box 193, New York City.

[1] Variously spelt Bordman and Boreman.

[2] Variously spelt Hitchens, Hitchings, etc.; perhaps even Hutchins.
